ONE RESULT OF THE CAMPAIGN.

ae of the Clubs Will Become Permanen Organizations-The Case of Peter Stevens-Election Echoes.

The new city officers received their cer tificates of election last evening. Yesterday the official canvass of the vote on Monday was made by Secretary Sells. The result varies but a trifle from our report of yesterday, and which was gathered under great disadvantages. Scott's majority over Clawson is 808; Hyams over Wells, 577; Walden over Carlson, 660; Clute over Rumel, 428; Young over McLean, 788.

The streets are already begining to assume their wanton appearance. The cam paign during the three months just closed was a hot and bitter one, but the memory of it is even now being forgotten, and busionce more absorbs the attention e average Salt Laker. The torches been stored away, and the disbanding of the various drum corps threatens to pro duce a panic in the drum and fife market. It is understood, however, that several permanent organizations, each one of which would be a credit to a city of three times the population of Salt Lake, will be the result of the campaign. Among the most prominent of these are the Guitar and Mandolin club, the Flambeau club, the Central drum corps, the Karrick guards, the Scott Zouaves, and the Liberal brass

The flags and bunting are still flying from many of the public buildings. The flags placed at half-mast on the Scott-Auerbach building and the Progress building yesterday were out of respect to the hemory of Isadore Greenwald, a member of the Liberal drum corps, whose death we amounced yesterday. we announced yesterday.

"A gentleman who knows." says The Hebald report that Peter Stevens was not allowed to vote in the Third precinct after being challenged for incest, was incorrect. He was challenged on that ground, but he was allowed to vote.

The votes cast for the five members of The votes cast for the five members of the People's party nominated as aldermen were not given in The Heral.D's table yesterday. Each gentleman, Messrs. Smith, Madsen, Hodges, Teasdel and McMaster, received a full vote from the People's party, but most of the judges declined to take any note of the vote, on the ground that there were no such officers to be chosen.

"SECOND," was again the motto the "SECOND," was again the motto the Tribus had to emblazon on its banner yesterist. Helying, as usual, on the judge "kindly forwarding returns," it got sadly left, and in place of complete election figures, it came out with some of the figures, and others of the precincts it guessed at. The Herald, which had special reporters at every polling place, got the complete figures and gave the public the whole information. Three editions were struck off and executive. the complete figures and gave the public the whole information. Three editions were struck off and probably nothing like the street sales the paper had were ever witnessed in Salt Lake before. At dark last night people were still clamoring for "more" at The Herald counting room.

AT THE TABERNACLE SUNDAY.

President Wilford Woodruff, Apostles Grant, Snow and Smith Speak.

The attendance at the tabernacle was inusually large on Sunday afternoon, the seats in the lower portion of the house being fully occupied and large numbers were obliged to betake themselves to the galleries.

On the stand were President Wilford enter a yard without first warning the Woodruff, Apostles Lorenzo Snow, John Henry Smith, Heber J. Grant, John W. Taylor, Abraham H. Cannon and Counselor

Cannon presided.

President Wilford Woodruff was the first speaker. He bore an earnest testimony to the truth, declaring that the God of heaven has set His hand to perform the work in which the Latter-day Saints are engaged. Joseph Smith and the apostles of to-day are no more unpopular than were the Savior and the apostles in his day. But whether men believe the truth or not, the purposes of God will be carried out as He has decreed. The Latter-day Saints are passing through a peculiar kind of history. So have they ever been since they became members of the church; but no man can be a faithful witness of Christ without suffering persecution. The Saints should not let their hearts be troubled, but should keep the commandments of God, and all will be well. For the information of the strangers present. President Woodruff quoted the following words which were enunciated by Joseph Smith: "If I were enunciat ments of the Latter-day Saints an the way through.

No man, no matter how high his positica may be, has a right to deprive any individual of his or her agency in the enjayment of his or her religion. All religious sects have a right to their religion whatever it may be.

have a right to their religion whatever it may be.

The speaker also gave some counsel to those of the Latter-day Saints who should to the polls on election day. He told them to labor for peace and not to create any disturbance. Every man, he said, has a right to vote as he pleases, to pray as he pleases, to believe in God as he pleases, to renounce religion or obey it. The Latter-day Saints expect to obey the laws of their country until He comes whose right it is to reign. They do not expect to set up any kingdom or to turn aside from those laws. President Woodruff exhorted the saints to be faithful to their country, to God, to their religion, and to those principles which God has revealed to them, and which they know are true.

Apostle Lorenze Snow also spoke. Al-
